Coolum State School has a new principal with Shannyn Taylor taking over at the start of term three. Born and bred in Ipswich, Principal Taylor comes to Coolum from Cooroy State School and before that Brightwater. Shannyn is happy to be at Coolum, a school which she said has a very strong community and standing in the community. "I am very lucky to be the principal here and so far everyone has been so nice and welcoming. I have loved connecting with everyone and I am looking forward to the musical and the Coolum Carnival amongst other things." When not being a school principal, Shannyn is with her husband and two sons doing what most other parents do such as going to the beach. Principal Taylor is pictured with cute preps Harper, Teddy, Jessica and Franklin who were busy showing her their spelling which was met with stickers for such great work. Photo: Vanessa Hall

NOWHERE TO GO – COMMUNITY URGES PALMER RESORT TO OPEN ROAD UNDERPASS FOR KANGAROO SAFETY

VANESSA HALL
EDITOR

NEARBY residents and community groups have been watching on in disbelief as kangaroos have been struggling to cross David Low Way (DLW) due to land clearing at the Dennis Family Corporation development at Yaroomba Beach known as 'Beachside'.

Up until recently the kangaroo population which lived on the Beachside site were able to come and go as they pleased and move around on the large site which was previously owned by Sekisui.

With site works starting earlier this year a large fence has been installed around the site and the kangaroos are making the often-fatal dash across the busy DLW in an effort to find new habitat.

Witnesses sought by Police after series of car fires on one night

VANESSA HALL
EDITOR

ON THE night of Thursday July 18, three cars were set alight during a one-hour period between 9 and 10pm, and Police are seeking info from the local community.

The three suspicious car fires were located in Yaroomba along Warran Road and in Coolum along Tharra St.

Police at this stage are not stating who or what might have been behind the fires, and no suspects have been identified.

Police have stated that on the night in question just after 9pm, emergency services were called to Warran Road in Yaroomba following reports a black Honda CR-V was on fire.

A call was received around 9.30pm after a green Suzuki Ignis was set on fire on Tharra Street in Coolum.

Another fire occurred along Warran Road in Yaroomba at 9.45pm after a Mazda 121 hatchback was found to be on fire.

A resident of Tharra St stated that just before the fire broke out they heard what sounded like music and the “swoosh” of an electric scooter or bike.

“About 9 last night we heard some music playing and didn’t think anything of it and we didn’t hear a car, it definitely sounded like an E-bike,” the resident stated.

“Then at roughly 9.20 we heard a loud bang and then we heard the next-door neighbour banging on the window- I’m assuming to wake up the owner of the car and then I went outside and saw that half of the car was on fire.”

The owner of the car located on Tharra St was staying in the house it was parked in front of, and the car had been set alight where it was parked.

Investigators are seeking assistance from anyone who may have been in the area between Warran Road in Yaroomba and Tharra Street in Coolum between 9 and 10pm on the night of Thursday July 18 to contact police.

Police are appealing to anyone with relevant dashcam or CCTV vision and any witnesses to come forward.

Please report any information to either 131 444 or 1800 333 000.

The first car that emergency services attended to on the night of Thursday July 18 was a Honda CR-V, located across from 144 Warran Road Yaroomba.

The second call out was to a Suzuki Ignis on Tharra Street in Coolum.

The third call out was to a Mazda 121 located on the corner of Neurum and Warran Road in Yaroomba. All photos: Vanessa Hall

BE PREPARED FOR BUSHFIRE SEASON

BUSHFIRE Season is fast approaching and whilst the temperatures have been cool, spring is literally just around the corner and with it the official start of Sunshine Coast’s dry season. It also heralds the start of bushfire season.

In preparation, it’s important for locals, no matter where they live on the coast, to prepare their property and business this August.

Being prepared means doing the following:

- Mowing your lawn regularly
- Keeping your gutters clear
- Trimming low-lying branches
- Preparing an emergency kit and household plan.

Now is the time to do your homework and know your risk, prepare your household and know how to protect yourself, your family and your property.

A well-prepared home is easier to defend and reduces the risk to surrounding properties.

Bushfire prone areas should be self-reliant to ensure their safety and to find out about your home’s level of risk, check the Rural Fire Service post code checker.

Learn what else you can do to prepare at the Get Ready Queensland website.

For the latest updates and information check out Sunshine Coast Council’s Disaster Hub website and app.

Being prepared and understanding how bushfires behave is everyone’s responsibility.

Across the road from Beachside is the Palmer Coolum Resort and underneath DLW is an underpass - previously used by golf carts to access greens when the course occupied both sides of DLW.

Community groups are asking the Palmer Resort to open the gate to the underpass in order to allow the kangaroos safe passage.

A petition calling on this has been spearheaded by local resident and Division 8 Councillor Taylor Bunnag.

"In June, I reached out to Palmer Resort Management and requested that the underpass gate be opened to provide safe passage for our wildlife underneath the DLW.

"Palmer Resort Management did not agree and as a result, I started a petition which has now gained more than 1500 signatures from community members."

Cr Bunnag said Council was doing as much as they could to help the kangaroos.

"Council is continuing to investigate all avenues for the opening of the underpass, with or without the agreement of Palmer Resort Management.

"As a Yaroomba resident, it's been deeply upsetting to see kangaroo deaths occurring in our community.

"The key issue is getting the underpass open to give these kangaroos a chance."

A spokesperson for the Dennis

Family Corporation said they were working in accordance with their development application requirements.

"The Yaroomba Beach site has been fully fenced since February and we are meeting all Council conditions associated with our approval.

"The fencing of the Yaroomba Beach site is not obstructing the underpass and Dennis Family Corporation supports it being reopened and we are careful to ensure both public and fauna safety as we work to deliver our Yaroomba Beach project."

Those Council requirements included a detailed Fauna Management Plan (FMP) as well as a spotter and random visits by Council's biodiversity officer

Cr Bunnag stated.

"The FMP details the steps to protect fauna species (including macropods) during any development activity undertaken on the subject land.

"The applicant undertook localised preclearance fauna reporting, which included six weeks of macropod surveying conducted on the site to determine the movement and feeding patterns of the mob of Eastern Grey Kangaroos that utilise the site."

Palmer Resort Management have made no attempt to accommodate the requests to open the underpass to the dismay of locals, one nearby resident stating it was distressing seeing the population dwindling.

These sentiments are backed up by Coolum and North Shore Coast Care President Leigh Warneminde.

"The kangaroos are suffering with the fences everywhere.

"They used to be able to move around easily and they are being squeezed out.

"If the gate underneath is opened they can get out and move about more freely and this is something that needs to be addressed and people need to start factoring in wildlife crossings."

A Coast Care volunteer who took the photos accompanying this story said she has been saddened with what is taking place.

"I took this photo on Friday after watching this poor guy bounding across the afternoon rush hour traffic, appearing confused and exhausted on the DLW.

"The poor kangaroo - I think it was trying to get to the Palmer Resort from the Beachside development but obviously was met with fences on either side of the road."

Palmer Coolum Resort Management were repeatedly contacted by the Advertiser for comment; however no reply was ever received.

Further information on Council's Macropod Conservation Plan can be found on Council's website at - <https://www.sunshinecoast.qld.gov.au/environment/native-animals/macropods>

TREE DAY SUCCESS AT DOONAN

IT WAS a busy morning on Sunday July 28 with the annual Doonan Planting Festival held in recognition of National Tree Day where lots of green thumb community members rolled up their sleeves for the event.

Run by Sunshine Coast Council Councillor Maria Suarez said it was a great day at the reserve.

"Around 3,000 trees were planted this morning at the Doonan Environment Reserve, thanks to the speedy work of many families and community members.

"There was lots of displays and interactive opportunities after the planting and it's rewarding to see how big previous plantings have grown as we reforest this land and create and strengthen important biodiversity corridors."

A look back in time

FRANCES WINDOLF
A LONG TIME COOLUM RESIDENT
WITH A PASSION FOR LOCAL HISTORY

REMEMBERING COLD WEATHER TIMES

SEVERAL times over the last couple of weeks I have been stopped by people wanting to discuss the change in the weather. After a bout of wet, relatively warm weather on the Sunshine Coast, the cool weather experienced in July made this a popular topic of conversation!

However, Coolum's wonderful sunny winter days are frequently followed by cool winter nights, and it is hard to remember that the clear skies we all enjoy in mid-May, June, July, and the first half of August allow daytime warmth to quickly disperse after sunset. In this period, when rainfall amounts commonly only contribute to less than fifteen or twenty percent of our annual rainfall, we frequently shiver in the mornings and then huddle as sunset approaches. Frosts can sometimes, rarely, be seen during this winter season, and it is not unusual for beach-keen surfers and walkers to experience the 'crunch' of icy sand on the beach in the early hours, while the mass of sea water can seem warmer than the air! Many long-term Coolum locals remember the Department of Primary Industries [D.P.I.] area - established from 1952 - which now encompasses much of the Peregrian Springs area and the Coolum Industrial Estate. Before this land became covered with buildings, it was common for frosts to cover the ground in low-lying parts of these areas five or six times a year between the beginning of June and the first week of August, with temperatures as low as minus five degrees Celsius during that time. Coincidentally, my late husband, John and I both experienced what was thought to have been Coolum's coldest recorded day, in July 1984, separately, as we did not meet for another few months after that time. I was recovering from surgery and had chosen Point Arkwright as the ideal location for my convalescence. The quiet spot suddenly became busy when two teenage boys, using a telescope in a private home just north of the carpark, spotted a small boat with two passengers, a long way from shore, desperately waving the cover of an "esky" as the wind blew them eastwards. At that time, the Coolum Surf Club was being rebuilt, and all their equipment was in storage, creating a desperate dilemma. As the Coolum ambulance promptly arrived, the elder of the two teenagers in the boat was seen to begin swimming to shore. A helicopter from the airport dropped a rescuer to the boy in the boat, towing it to shore, but the swimmer unfortunately died. Meanwhile, on Mount Coolum, John had snowflakes landing on his shoulders as he measured the weather at the top of the mountain ... the only snow ever recorded in Coolum!

Letters to the editor

NUCLEAR QUESTIONS

Dear editor,

After reading two letters to the editor on nuclear. I needed to write this letter to educate some people on this subject.

To start with, a nuclear station takes 10 years to build at an enormous price. So what would the price be in 10 years' time? I can't see them before 10 years' time when you take into consideration objections, unions etc.

Also, a nuclear station takes a lot of water to cool it down and store fuel.

When you look at Canada, who has a number of nuclear stations, their last nuclear power station built back in 1993 ballooned out to a cost of $1.4 billion. No one in the world is building nuclear storage pools anymore - too expensive.

So my question is, Mr Dutton wants to build seven of these nuclear power stations at what cost and who will be paying for them in the future?

To me, 10 years' time is too late. We need to do something now. We have already wasted ten years doing nothing.

I have solar panels and an electric EV. I don't pay for power, and I don't pay for petrol.

And I do look at my power bill.

Mr Dutton has said he's going to abolish all other energy resources and only use nuclear energy. My concern is what do all of us who have solar panels do if he brings nuclear power in? A waste of consumers money!

When you look at Australia as a whole the only states that don't have 100% renewable energy are the eastern states. South Australia and Tasmania have 100% renewable energy, and W.A will have it by the end of the year.

Come on, we're nearly there. Don't we want our grandchildren and our children to breathe clean air, and have an earth to live on?

Sun and wind are free, this to me makes common sense.

J Markwell,
Coolum.

REPAIRING APPLIANCES

Dear editor,

While all our home appliances are going well, we're going well. However, when they break down, often just out of the brief warranty period, we struggle to find a repairer at reasonable cost and call out fee. Then we find there are no spare parts for our 'obsolete' model.

Many appliances are designed in a way that makes repairs impossible - the manufacturers call it 'planned obsolescence' to increase their sales of new products.

With cars, we would find it unacceptable and a whole industry has been built up around the servicing of vehicles at workshops and complemented by wrecking yards and the spare parts industry.

With home appliances it is almost virgin territory and invariably we are pointed towards buying a new appliance by retailers.

In the days of rising living costs and waste dumps piling up this is no longer acceptable.

While repair cafes manned by small groups of volunteers can handle a minuscule volume of work, the problem has blown out like our family budget.

Under Australia's consumer laws, we technically have a right to a repair, a refund or a replacement for defective goods. However, manufacturers are not required to provide spare parts or repair services.

In contrast, the UK and EU have passed laws to ensure manufacturers must support their products for more than one or two years. They must make spare parts available to consumers and third-party companies. Effectively, the life cycles of appliances are extended by up to ten years.

In those countries, labels on appliances and packaging at the point of sale reflect the ability to have an appliance repaired, and the spare parts with service support available.

This was brought home to me when my washing machine broke down. I discovered it was designed in the UK and built in Turkey, making the supply of spare parts problematic.

However, it was my lucky day when I found a local young repairman making a go of his business with reasonable call-out charges and a nose for sniffing out rare spare parts. Thankfully, my appliance blues were soon washed away.

Unfortunately, the exception will prove the rule until Australia's consumer laws are updated.

If not, we could see Australia becoming a dumping ground for an endless stream of poorly designed, low-quality, cheap imports without regulatory consumer support for repairs.

Garry Reynolds,
Peregian Springs.

FINES

Dear editor,

Royal Commissions exposed rorts, rackets and rotten doings in Banking, Aged Care, Robo-debt at a huge cost to taxpayers in more ways than money. Was anyone responsible/jailed for all these crimes against people? Just asking.

Margaret Wilkie,
Peregian Beach.

NUCLEAR COSTINGS

Dear editor,

Your correspondent Mr Benion believes that we could build seven nuclear power stations for $70 billion (Yes to nuclear, Advertiser July 17-30). That would be truly impressive, as it is less than the one being built in the UK will end up costing.

Even if it were legal to build nuclear power stations in Australia, I don't know anyone with any relevant experience who thinks we could build seven by 2037. Even if they could be built, they would only replace about a quarter of the coal-fired power that will be retired by then. They would produce high level waste, which would cost a small fortune to store; the SA Royal Commission in 2016 estimated it would cost more than $40 billion to build a secure long-term storage facility.

Nuclear power is just too expensive, too slow, too hazardous and makes too little difference. The LNP proposal is a cynical smokescreen for their intention to keep burning coal. The only cost-effective strategy for our power needs is renewables with storage.

Ian Lowe,
Marcoola.

DOG DOS & DONTs

Dear editor,

In the fading evening light of the June 21st winter solstice, I rose from the warmth of my lounge chair to check if my absentee neighbours bin was still on the street.

Once outside I was met not only with the chill of night air but also a distinct whiff of fresh dog dropping. It was then the gentle "flump" of a well filled 'dog poo bag' coming to rest at the bottom of an empty bin carried to my ears from my neighbour's direction.

Next, out of the gloom appeared a long-legged Terrier looking well pleased with itself. At the other end of its lead was an impeccably groomed and attired woman of a style shouting "entitled."

When I asked (possibly, in a tone of disbelief) had she dropped her dog's poo bag into my neighbour's bin she replied. "Yes, and what are you going to do about it?" I said I will report it, let this be my report!

Since that incident I have asked several friends from across the coast if in today's world was this behaviour acceptable. Their unanimous responses were - into a full bin about to be collected is okay. Into an empty bin is rude, unacceptable and certainly not neighbourly!

On the positive side, in recent times dog owners appear to be much more responsible in bagging their dogs' droppings. As a member of a volunteer bush care group, it is noticeable that we encounter far less tossed 'dog poo bags' when weeding along beach access paths than we did in the past.

However, with the increased dog population, even owners doing the right thing cannot avoid adding to the sickening stench that permeates the air space surrounding public bins in popular dog walking areas.

Perhaps it is time for councils sought initiatives/solutions such as dog wet areas with connection to the sewer system for what is an increasing issue of concern on multiple levels.

Ron Gooch,
Peregian Beach.

BRUCE HIGHWAY REPAIRS

Dear editor,

On a recent trip to Townsville, I could not believe the poor state of repair our national highway is now in due to lack of maintenance by this Qld Labor Government over the last 11 years. Some of the sections of the highway are no better than regional highways in third world countries.

Some parts of the Bruce Highway between the Sunshine Coast to Townsville have been well looked after, especially emanating or travelling through Labor electorates such as Maryborough, North Mackay and North Rockhampton. The rest is deplorable.

The lack of maintenance, the responsibility of the previous Transport Minister was good for the budget, but future governments will face a huge maintenance backlog.

Between Proserpine and Bowen the highway is not good and in 70 kms there are only two passing lanes.

South of Proserpine is not much better with the first 30 kms no passing lanes. The road is deplorable.

I have first-hand experience of the road between Rockhampton to Marlborough, in particular the 100 kms Yaamba to Marlborough, no maintenance has been undertaken in the last 13 years since I worked on that section of the highway.

The road is a black mark on those in power in our state in which money is wasted on other projects and very little being spent on basic infrastructure such as road maintenance.

At some time someone needs to get serious about this road and the past State Minister for Transport needs to be condemned for his obvious lack of care and pork barrelling in Labor held electorates on the highway.

SALVOS HOMELESSNESS WEEK

Dear editor,

Next week (August 5 – 11) is National Homelessness Week. A week where the homelessness crisis that affects our country gets put into the spotlight, and where we get to advocate for those who are the most vulnerable in our community.

As the largest provider of homelessness services in Australia, The Salvation Army wants others to be aware of the key issues facing those experiencing or at risk of homelessness.

We are seeing across the country that social housing waiting lists are growing, the demand for homeless services is skyrocketing and rental prices are increasing by 10% every year.

There are also increasing levels of mortgage stress and 'tent cities' popping up around the country while there is very cold winter weather.

The Salvation Army is trying to meet the needs of thousands of people experiencing homelessness each month, made more difficult due to a winter of unaffordable housing and a cost-of-living crisis.

We can't do this alone. Our hope during Homelessness Week this year is to inform and educate the public about the issues surrounding homelessness and to advocate for the most vulnerable in our community as we lobby for more accommodation and support services.

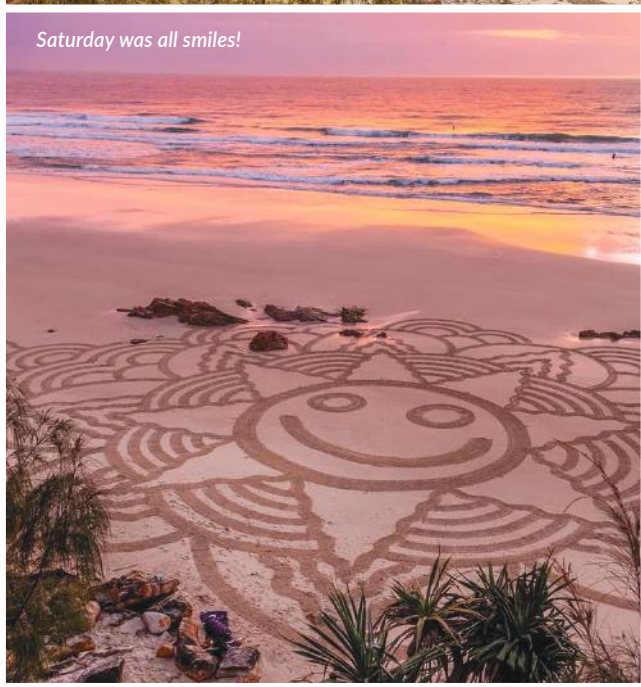

As a major provider of accommodation and financial assistance in Australia, we put clients at the centre of our work. The Salvation Army's desire is to treat everyone who reaches out to our services with dignity, compassion, and respect.

We are passionate about seeing transformation in people's lives. It is our privilege to meet people where they are at, whether that is rough sleeping, couch surfing, emergency accommodation or in other circumstances, and we will continue to do all we can to support people in their journey.

SAND ART IN COOLUM

KEZIGN & OWEN
CAVANAGH

LOCAL ARTIST Owen Cavanagh who is best known for his wave mural which flanked a shed along the motorway, made the sand of Coolum Beach his medium over two consecutive mornings, constructing two sand mandalas of sorts with a rake used instead of a paintbrush! The two pieces which were constructed on Friday July 25 and Saturday July 26 were located just south of Coolum main beach where the rocks start to meet at Point Perry. The pieces were met with so much joy and praise. Thanks so much to Owen for creating the pieces and to photographer Kezign for capturing them.

If you happen to take a stunning pic or have a pic of something you think the community should know about – on either your smart phone or DSLR from anywhere in the region, we would love to see it!

Please send in your 'pic of the week' to, editor@coolumadvertiser.com.au and don't forget to include your name, where the pic was taken and what it is of.

COOLUM COLTS

Ladies' Day

THE LADIES from the Coolum Colts were celebrated with a special day dedicated to them on Sunday July 21 as the club had three home games.

A special marquee was set up and there was a bar, amazing platters of food, raffles, and most all lots of great smiles and fun on the day as the ladies watched on from the sidelines as all three of the teams won on the day.

Treasurer Candice Semiotas said it was a very "special day."

"Ladies' Day 2024 was a huge success. Not only did all three teams win on the day, but we also got to celebrate the special ladies of our community, watch them have a blast on the sidelines and we raised an amazing amount of money for our little club - all at the same time!"

As with most days like these sponsors are always appreciated and make the day happen.

"We would like to give a massive public thanks to our 2024 Ladies' Day Naming Sponsors - Bridgestone Mar-coola, MSC Concrete, See Saw Clothing and Hailee Jade Evan-gelista from Coronis Noosa Real Estate. Without these four businesses/individuals, we would not have been able to produce the kind of day we did, so we are so grateful for you jumping on board."

Candice also said that the men from the colts stepped up on the day.

"We had three of our injured senior players helping out with Jayden Brown there for the whole process/planning and showing up to MC the entire day, Aidan Cutler manned the ladies day bar (mostly) on his own for the whole day, and Luke Philp chauffeured our ladies in the souped-up golf buggy all day, saving them from the lengthy walk to the marquee."

"Thank you also to all the men who volunteered across the entire day to run game day, having them take care of the whole day so the ladies could just relax was amazing."

Everyone who attended had a great time and Ladies Day 2025 is already on the radar with the club who, "can't wait to do it all again next year!"

There was lots of raffles to be won on the day.

Games such as the 'egg and spoon' race were played on the day for fun.

Smiles were all around at Ladies' Day.

A gorgeous selection of amazing nibbles was on offer.

A special marquee was put up on the day which is where all of the Ladies' Day food, drink and raffles were held.

Marvellous night for a ‘moonwalk’ in Coolum for rare disease

IN AN effort to raise vital funds which will lead to re-search and a potential cure, some 400 people from across the Sunshine Coast gathered in Coolum on the evening of July 21 for a global moonwalk for local charity ‘Our Moon’s Mission’.

The walk coincided with the last full moon and the wintery clear skies provided the perfect backdrop for the charity event with a very important message and cause.

The gathering was dedicated to walking for those who can’t and to helping find a cure for the rare disease known as SPG56 which is afflicting Coolum five-year-old Tallulah Moon.

The Coolum Moonwalk, held in Tickle Park, featured a variety of activities, including a full moon walk, a drumming circle, and a raffle with over $1000 in prizes donated by generous local businesses.

As the moon rose, the Coolum wheelchair-accessible moonlit walk took off from Tickle Park, south towards Point Arkwright along Coolum’s iconic coastline, creating a picturesque and inclusive event for all ages.

Division 9 Councillor Maria Suarez opened the event and praised the parents of Tallulah and their drive to combat SPG56 and find a cure for their daughter.

“I met Tallulah’s parents before they’d had a chance to establish this charity, and in three years they’ve come so far.

“Their resolve and focus, starting research for what was initially deemed an incurable disease, is truly inspiring. Thanks to their commitment and community support, they are now close to initiating a clinical trial next year for a disease that once had no hope.”

Mum to Tallulah and Co-Founder of ‘Our Moon’s Mission’ and its parent charity ‘Genetic Cures for Kids’, Golden Whitrod stated that one in ten people live with a rare disease.

“Almost none of these diseases have treatment options and when our daughter was diagnosed with SPG56, she became one of over 500 million people without hope for a disease-free future,” Golden said.

“We decided that our family would take on the challenge, starting with SPG56.

“The scientific groundwork for a cure has been completed, and the gene therapy for SPG56 has met the necessary safety and efficacy standards to advance to the next phase. However, a lack of funding is the only obstacle between us and translating this breakthrough into a clinical trial for these precious children.”

With approximately $3 million required to manufacture the gene therapy for a small clinical trial, Tallulah’s father Chris Whitrod highlighted the need for increased support.

“These impactful events raise awareness and funds while inspiring us to persevere. We need the community’s continued support now more than ever. If you’re planning a charitable event, please consider Our Moon’s Mission and Genetic Cures for Kids as your chosen charity because every effort brings us closer to a cure.”

Join the mission to cure SPG56 and make a difference in the lives of children like Tallulah Moon. For more information visit www.ourmoonsmission.org or follow @OurMoonsmission on social media.

LIONS NORRIE JOB PARK UPGRADE

The Lions Norrie Job Park upgrade is well underway, and you'll be able to see plenty of work taking place to pipe, fill and level the drain. This will give back to us much open space in the park to kick a ball or have a picnic on. There will also be upgrades to the exercise equipment, barbeque shelters and pathways. And this financial year, $150,000 has been allocated to design a new pump track. Thank-you for your patience as construction progresses.

COMING UP THIS FINANCIAL YEAR

The 2024-25 budget was approved by Council on June 20 which means there is now certainty of funding around some upcoming projects.

- The junction at Ridgeview Drive and Havana Road West will be upgraded, with $450,000 to build a pedestrian crossing on all four legs of the junction which will make it a lot safer for the students from the local schools who regularly use the crossing. There will also be new streetlights installed on Havana Road West, with $100,000 allocated to help make it safer for joggers and walkers up early in the morning or out late at night.
- The Lowes Lookout pathway stage one has been allocated an additional $60,000, to build the section from Scrub Road through the road reserve to the first residential roadway.
- The shower and part of the playground equipment will be upgraded at Tickle Park.
- Two other projects have received a combined $550,000 to be considered together which are a missing link pathway project to connect the beach precincts to our park, library and civic centre, and an active transport project.

SUNSHINE COAST LOCALS TAKE ON PARIS

WE CAN all be immensely proud of the whopping fifteen Sunshine Coast locals who are representing Australia in the 2024 Paris Olympics, and they are - Dominique du Toit, Alexandra Perkins, Peyton Craig, Haylie Powell, Zac Incerti, Brianna Throssell, Kristina Clonan, Isaac Cooper, Alyce Wood, Alexandra Clarke, Alyssa Bull, Jamie Perkins, Lani Pallister, Nicholas Sloman and Nicholas Porter.

We are also eagerly awaiting to see the full list of Sunshine Coast locals who will be representing Australia in the Paris Paralympics, which will be running from August 28 to September 8.

SALUTING THEIR SERVICE GRANT - APPLICATIONS OPEN

Applications are now open for the "Saluting Their Service" Commemorative Grant. The program is designed to provide funding for projects that promote appreciation and understanding of the experiences of service and the roles that those who served have played, and to preserve, add to the sum knowledge on, or provide access to information about Australia's wartime heritage.

Eligible organisations can receive grants between $10,001 and $150 000 for major commemorative projects and activities. Applications close February 5, 2025. To learn more about the grant, reach out to my office at ted.obrien.mp@aph.gov.au, or on (07) 5479 2800.

LOCAL CHARITY CEO RETIRES

After 20 years at the helm of the Maroochy Neighbourhood Centre, Michael Henning has retired. The Centre has continuously supported people right across the Sunshine Coast. Michael's calm and stable leadership has been a bug reason for the Centre's ongoing success over the last two decades, serving those in our community who are most in need. Join me in welcoming Mark Ellis, the incoming CEO. Mark brings a wealth of experience and will ensure that the future of the Centre remains bright. Maroochy Neighbourhood Centre provides relief to members of the community struggling with poverty, homelessness, domestic and family violence, and more. They can be contacted on (07) 5443 6696.

ST ANDREWS FOUNDATION DAY

IT WAS an honour to be part of St Andrew's Anglican College annual Foundation Day Service recently. This is an important event celebrating the college community, and staff and student achievements. Most notably, this year the service recognised the incredible contribution of Principal Chris Ivey, who will be leaving later this year after 17 years of faithful and dedicated service.

Reverend Ivey has had an enormous impact on the College, successfully guiding it from success to success over the years, and while he will be sorely missed, we wish him all the best for the next stage of his career.

ADULT CRIME, ADULT TIME

ONE OF the biggest concerns in our community is without a doubt crime. Rarely a day goes by without someone contacting me about this escalating crisis. Last year alone, there were 289,657 victims of crime in Queensland.

Recently, the LNP announced our Adult Crime, Adult Time policy, to restore consequences for actions, and hold repeat juvenile offenders who commit serious and violent crimes accountable for their crimes.

It forms part of our Making Queensland Safer Laws, which also includes:

- Delivering gold standard intervention programs to divert young people away from lives of crime.
- Providing victims with automatic updates to their cases, removing the burden on them to seek out information about their cases.
- The Staying on Track program, which will provide up to 12 months of intensive support for youth transitioning back into the community after detention.
- Reopening the Children's Court, removing the provision excluding victims and their families and allowing greater media scrutiny.
- Fixing the broken residential care and child safety systems, to stop the pipeline into youth crime.

I welcome your feedback on these important policy announcements, which will be rolled out before the end of the year if the LNP forms government.

Legal News

KIRSTY MACKIE

KIRSTY MACKIE SOLICITORS ARE EXPERTS IN FAMILY LAW AND ARE OFFERING A VISITING SERVICE AT BARBER PORTER SOLICITORS IN COOLUM.

CONSENT ORDERS

UPON a marriage or relationship breaking down, many people are surprised to know there is more than one way to legally document an agreement. Financial agreements receive a lot of attention in the media, but they can be costly because both parties must receive independent legal advice for the agreement to be binding. After it's all signed there's still no guarantee the other party won't try to have it set aside.

Fortunately, it remains possible (and cheaper) to formalise your financial agreement by way of an Application for Consent Orders. You can even document a parenting agreement while you are at it. While it is necessary to file the document at the Federal Circuit and Family Court of Australia, there is no court appearance required. There is even a "do it yourself" kit on the Court website if you are feeling adventurous.

Once completed, the documents are filed online where a Judicial Registrar reviews the Application and finalises the Orders, after satisfying themselves that the settlement is both just and equitable.

Like most legal documents, there are some common errors which can lead the Court to reject the documents, meaning delays and frustration for the separating couple. A family law solicitor can assist with drafting or at least reviewing your documents prior to filing them with the Court.

Observations

TONY GIBSON

A MARCOOLA RESIDENT WHO IS ACTIVE IN THE COMMUNITY AND THE ENVIRONMENT.

GOING WITH NATIVES

I LOVE going over the Maroochy River travelling north as you see Mount Ninderry and Mount Coolum largely unimpeded by the built environment. Towards the coast the wailum heathland spreads out in the national parks and there's conservation areas containing significant biodiversity.

When the plans for the airport identified the potential for a ten (10) storey building at the airport, many of us saw this as a step too far. When a traveller arrives at Sunshine Coast airport they are greeted by this peaceful and natural vista instilling that calm feeling as they take a breath and realise they have arrived at a unique destination.

Our native fauna and flora are a legacy from mother nature, the Kabi Kabi traditional owners and all the more recent guardians who have fought for its preservation. Many of us are fortunate to live in close proximity to the bush and live in residential areas, where native vegetation has been retained or planted in the streets, within parks and on public lands. Also, many of us have chosen to make our gardens predominantly native gardens attracting wonderful native birds and other wildlife species.

On the North Shore we continue to be supported by organisations like Coolum and North Shore Coast Care, Seaside Shores Community Association, Maroola Community Group, Sunshine Coast Council and many more to ensure we retain the biodiversity that is internationally recognised as a UNESCO Biosphere for its uniqueness.

I was very appreciative of the Free Tree Program commenced by our Councillor Taylor Bunag who provided plants to us last Thursday and this program will be ongoing. The plants have been propagated at Coolum Community Native Nursery on Warran Road at Yaroomba which is worth a visit for natives.

The visual amenity that we enjoy is recognised in the council planning scheme that guides development. The plans have to take consideration for health and wellbeing not only for travellers using the airport but the local community and our native fauna and flora. What additional local community facilities could be included in the airport plans? A kinder and compassionate treatment of the community and our natural assets – please.

COOLUM STATE HIGH SCHOOL

"IT'S GOLD, AUSTRALIA, GOLD!"

HOW MANY people, like me, have sat up much later than they should have recently watching the Olympic Games from one of the world's greatest cities – Paris?

What about the mix of traditional Olympic sports such as swimming, badminton, diving, fencing and boxing, mixed in with new sports including skateboarding, surfing and breakdancing. That's right, breakdancing is now an Olympic sport!

In so many instances, Olympic athletes also excelled at their academic pursuits in the classroom. It's because excellence doesn't exist in a bubble and people driven to excellence tend to be driven to excellence in all things. How about Jana Pittman, former Olympic hurdler and mother of six, who is now a medical doctor. What an incredible life of achievement. What an inspiration!

And what about Mackenzie Little, qualifying for and competing in javelin at the Paris Olympics, while also working as a first-year doctor. How do these people manage to fit so much into their lives?

There is so much that we can learn from these athletes.

Things like if you want to achieve something great you have to work for it. There are no shortcuts. You have to be determined, committed and focussed. In those moments, during an Olympic Games, you are brilliant – achieving something we would all (deep down) like to do but having the determination and the drive to actually do it in real life. Jana Pittman and Mackenzie Little show that the lessons learned as an Olympian striving and training with every inch of themselves can be translated into the academic arena and you can, literally, achieve anything.

There is a lot to learn for our Coolum High students from our Olympic athletes. The lessons of determination, focus and sacrifice to achieve your dreams are ones every Olympic athlete knows. From them, we can see that academic success and sporting success spring from the same place – hard work! Let's hope our athletes have a few more gold medals left in them yet!!!

Volunteers Needed

MealsonWheels

Our Mission: To contribute to the independence and quality of life of people living in Coolum and it's surrounds by providing nutritious food, human connections and social support.

Want to have the contact with clients but don't want to drive?

Then perhaps you would like to team with a driver and deliver the meals to the client's front door?

You will need to:

- Enjoy meeting people
- Have attention to detail to ensure the correct meal is delivered to each person (Clients are depending on you to get the right meal to them - and no one wants to miss out on their delivery)
- Be able to get in and out of a car without too much difficulty.
- Have a National police check. If you already have one that was conducted less than 2 years ago, we can accept a copy, if not, we can run a check for you free of charge.

Delivery Volunteers starting and finish times : 10:45am - 1:00pm

More than just a meal

Meals on Wheels has had a place in the hearts and homes of Australians for more than 70 years.

Coolum Beach Meals on Wheels prepare fresh nutritious meals and deliver them to people's homes to enable them to live independently in our community. We provide a regular social contact, a friendly smile and a chat to check all is well.

Our volunteers are the core of our service - cooking, delivering and helping to make a difference to someone's day. We couldn't do it without their help.

We are always on the lookout for new volunteers to join our team. Can you spare a few hours a month to help keep the "wheels" running smoothly?

Why not give us a call to find out more?
It could make your day!

Please call 5446 1000 to find out how to be a part of our community

The annual Coolum versus Southerners match was played on Sunday July 21 with the Southerners winning by a landslide. It was a great day all round on the greens, despite the result.

Presentation of the shield to the Southerners - Paul Spencer (Coolum), Peter Raynes (Southerners) and John Lennon (District Bowls).

Great weather for the match.

Cheering on the bowlers.

Watching from the sidelines.
