Coolum Beach Surf Life Saving Club will be offering an adaptive nipper program this summer for children with disabilities and who otherwise have not been able to join the established nipper program. Nippers is a surf safety program for 5-14 year olds and is run by Surf Life Saving Clubs across the country. Nippers is a program which fosters fun, friendships and builds essential life skills such as surf awareness and water confidence. Participants will be in good hands too with Coolum Beach SLSC only earlier this week awarded 'State Junior & Youth Development Club of the Year' due to their dedication and commitment to young surf safety and everything that encompasses. BILLED AS a "music for health initiative" the second annual Shed Music'25 Festival has grown substantially and will be one big week-end of music and community awareness with the aim of getting men to take stock and look after both their physical and mental health.

The brainchild of the Coolum Men's Shed the festival will feature more than 120 musicians, over 20 bands and even a songwriting contest with Shed Music'25 Convenor Bruce Uhlhorn stating it was an easy decision to grow the festival.

success of last year, so we decided to hold it not just on one day but over a couple of days and this is also on the weekend of Father's Day which is also really fitting."

The event is free to attend and will be perfectly suited for the whole family and Bruce stated that the freebies didn't end just with the music.

"This is really a health initiative disguised as a music event.

"We know that men are not great at looking after themselves and booking in for checks so we are making it easy for them and will be providing health checks, all in a completely laid back and non-threatening environment."

With over 100 checks performed last year and a similar initiative in play at cricket matches as a result of Shane Warne's legacy, the Sunshine Coast Hospital and Health Group will be onsite doing free medical checks.

"Come along for your health and stay for the music," Bruce explained.

The festival will be once again held at the Coolum Peregrine RSL with a large outdoor stage where all of the action will take place during the day and each night the festival will head inside.

Over the three days the program will include Blues, Jazz, Rock, and Folk performances by Men's Shed musicians from the Sunshine Coast, Brisbane, Newcastle and New Zealand.

"There is a connection between mental health and playing music and engaging in music," Bruce said.

"We know that music is positive, and the Men's Sheds embrace all sorts of activities and the Coolum Men's Shed is very active in the music program with over 30 members participating weekly and across the region there's ten sheds who have music programs."

Bruce also said that the festival was about community and how important social connection is and the support from the community had been encouraging.

"There has been a huge groundswell from the community, and we have had incredible support from Council, Bendigo Bank and Coates Hire and we were recognised last year by the Australian Men's Shed Association where we won a national award."

Some of the groups featured will be ShedGrooves, No Strings Attached, Waiatarua Warblers, Raymond Terrace Band, Buderim Male Choir, Shred, Hip Replacements, Qutro Galpao, Jeff Joseph Band, Sounds of Then, Coolum Coasters, Flash Back, Shaky Razor, Hullaboo Liars, Mojo, Random Thoughts, the Shed Heads and Billabong Bush Band.

The Shed Music '25 festival will be held across the evening of Friday September 5, all day and night on Saturday September 6 and during the day on Sunday September 7 at the Coolum-Peregrine RSL. The festival is free to attend and everyone is welcome.

COOLUM Beach Surf Life Saving Club will be offering an adaptive nipper program this summer for children with disabilities and special needs and who otherwise have not been able to join the established nipper program.

Coolum Beach SLSC Junior Activities Committee Chairperson Jake Harris said that the program would be a first for Coolum SLSC.

"Nippers is all about learning how to be safe in the water and also offers pathways for life saving and we want to see opportunities for everyone.

"We want everyone to have the same experience where they can learn about the ocean and feel like they are included."

The program will be run over summer both before and after Christmas for up to six weeks and the cost to participate will be minimal with the club making the program as cost effective as possible.

"We will give all of the kids a rashie and nipper cap and we will be covering as many of the costs as we can," Jake said.

Safety will be paramount and there is no prior water ability needed to participate.

"We will provide the water safety volunteers and will have at least one to one available and we can facilitate all surf abilities.

"If a child only wants to get their toes wet, then we can accommodate that and we can adapt the training for each child."

Expressions of interest are currently being taken for the program and families of children (five years and older) with disabilities who would like to participate in the adaptive nipper program at Coolum Beach SLSC can do so via the following link - <https://forms.office.com/r/4JfGsT5RSq>

Letters to the editor

PRAISE FOR PAPERS

Dear editor,

Recently the new President of Country Press Australia, Damian Morgan said "...My top priority as President of CPA is to fight for the publishers who, in turn, are fighting for their communities. We'll be wearing out the boot leather lobbying governments to protect our people from exploitation by tech platforms that profit from harmful content and put our children and democracy at risk..."

Local newspapers serve as platforms for regional views and offer alternatives to Australia's mainstream media, which is 60 percent controlled by one corporation, American News Corp.

Corporate and city interests dominate, while global tech companies are reducing local newspapers' revenues and jeopardizing their existence.

The role of independent local journalism cannot be overstated as they report on local issues of the towns and regions serve. Their stories are vital for community cohesion and are most often overlooked by the larger media companies.

By supporting local businesses who advertise in local papers we can help their survival in these challenging times for the media.

When reliable sources provide Australians wherever they live with information, they can gauge policies, identify misinformation, and engage effectively in democratic processes.

In 1923, the national Returned and Services League of Australia adopted the motto, "The Price of Liberty is Eternal Vigilance". Just as true in those days as it is now.

Our local newspapers are vital for regional areas, support them whenever you can.

Robyn Deane,
Nambour.

THE WAVE

Dear editor,

Momentum builds for the Wave. Some want heavy rail, some had rather busses. As it is too hard to make a decision (to please everybody), let's just have a bit of both.

Fast transport is about speed. However, if you have to change horses halfway through your trip, the journey not only takes longer but there is also more inconvenience, especially for tourists, to juggle your luggage from one mode of transport to the other.

The Wave busses are the better option. So why not concrete a busway all the way? It's cheaper, faster to build, less dangerous than railway crossings and a lot more flexible.

To you in power - get real!

J Konrad,
Peregian.

PARLIAMENT

Dear editor,

Democracy - of the people, by the people, for the people. Which people - the unelected lobbyists of every relationship, persuasion and interests? All of them outnumbering the elected who sit in Parliament? Just asking who's who in this zoo?

Margaret Wilkie,
Peregian Beach

Community Update

COOLUM BEACH MEALS ON WHEELS

National MOW Day

THIS NATIONAL Meals on Wheels Day (Wednesday August 28), Coolum Beach Meals on Wheels (MOW) is celebrating the local volunteers, customers and community members who make it all possible — and highlighting the vital role the service continues to play in the lives of people across our region.

Under this year's theme, Aged Care You Can Count On, MOW is proudly reaffirming its promise to be a trusted and reliable presence in the lives of older Australians, especially as the aged care sector continues to evolve.

Secretary Pat Pashley said that MOW is more than just a food delivery service.

"We bring nourishment, safety and a friendly face to some of the most vulnerable people in our community — and we do it with heart."

For more than 70 years MOW has been operating in Australia and each day across the country MOW volunteers hit the road to deliver freshly prepared meals and check in on customers. These daily visits offer more than nutrition with the unofficial welfare check allowing many to remain living independently in their own homes.

Paul Sadler from MOW Australia said that the service is a vital lifeline.

"As aged care changes, our promise doesn't and we will always show up, nourish and care."

With an ever-increasing older population and many able to remain at home, the demand for MOW is not slowing down however the service is not without challenges.

"Right now, some of these vital services are at risk. In the face of aged care reform and rising costs, we cannot afford to lose Meals on Wheels," Mr Sadler said.

On the Sunshine Coast MOW is calling on the community to get involved, whether by volunteering, donating, or simply spreading the word about the service.

Volunteer Anne Gillard said that being a member of the Coolum MOW team was very rewarding.

"We're proud to be part of something bigger — a movement that's built on compassion, trust and community spirit."

On this National MOW Day, the community are being asked to get involved if they have some extra time to give and therefore ensure the longevity of the local MOW service for many more years to come.

To learn more about Meals on Wheels in Coolum Beach, or to get involved, please phone - 5446 1000.

Event Showcase

'Bold Body' – Photographic Exhibition

THE HUMAN body in its many varied and beautiful states will be celebrated at an exhibition taking place at The Old Ambo in Nambour from September 5, with five local photographers exhibiting their works which showcase the human form.

The 'Bold Body' is asking viewers to be prepared for a bold, beautiful and sometimes bizarre dive into the human form by way of dreamy portraits and abstract explorations as the artists behind the camera explore the human body in all its weird, raw and wonderful glory.

Artists exhibiting include Ketakii Jewson-Brown, Warwick Gow, Cynthia Lee, Jamie Davidson, and Travis Macfarlane and their daring, vivid, striking and evocative works ask the viewer to consider the body not only as a subject, but as a story, surface and sculpture.

Photographer Travis Macfarlane has been behind the lense for more than a decade and has a portfolio of work which transgresses the rich tapestry of human life. Travis explained that the exhibition will be a way for the public to see works of art.

"This is not your standard photography. All of the photographers are very well known and masters of the craft and this really is art, which is being exhibited right here on the Sunshine Coast."

This is a thoughtful and visually rich exhibition, and viewers are invited to discover a diverse collection of photographic art that shifts between the intimate and the abstract, challenging perception and celebrating form.

WEAR AND SHOW YOUR SUPPORT FOR LEGACY WEEK 2025

IT'S ONLY a little badge, however its impact is huge and this Legacy Week the community are being asked to show their support and buy and wear a Legacy badge with the badge symbolising a commitment to stand beside the families of those who served our country.

Legacy Week will run from this Sunday, August 31 to Saturday, September 6 and badge sellers will be visible across the coast in areas such as out front of shopping centres and supermarkets and is a major annual fundraiser for Legacy.

Legacy cares for tens of thousands of widows and widowers who have lost their loved ones and been affected by their partner's service.

Chair of Legacy Australia, Rhondda Vanzella AM, said community support during Legacy Week had never been more important.

"Legacy Week began in 1940 after realising the dire circumstances of veterans, widows and children left behind and those who returned set out to help them," Ms Vanzella said.

"This year's theme, Little Badge, Big Impact, reflects the power of community, and the Legacy Badge is a special emblem symbolising our nation's greatest values of mateship, compassion and fairness."

Sunshine Coast Mayor Rosanna Natoli Mayor said Legacy Week was an important reminder that our duty of care continued long after the term of service.

"Legacy Week raises awareness, and funds, for the families of Australian Defence Force men and women who've lost their lives or have ongoing health issues," Mayor Natoli said.

"Buying a badge is a small act with a big heart. It's something we can all do to show we care and to honour those who've served, and their loved ones left behind."

Sunshine Coast Legacy Group volunteers, known as Legatees, support more than 500 Legacy beneficiaries including widows, children and people with a disability through vital support and advocacy during challenging times.

Legacy volunteers will be selling badges and merchandise at shopping centres, community hubs and local events across the Sunshine Coast.

FINALS FOOTY WITH FOUR HOME GAMES FOR COLTS

BY PAT CAVANAGH

THIS SATURDAY August 30 the Coolum Colts Rugby League Club will be hosting four finals on behalf of the Sunshine Coast Gympie Rugby League.

All four Coolum teams will be playing finals footy at home this Saturday in a history making day for the club.

Club President Simon Kidman said congratulations were warranted to the players, coaches and supporters who have made this possible.

"What a year it has been so far, and we would love to see any supporters who have had any involvement with the Colts since 1988 to come along to support the teams on Saturday."

The games on Saturday will see the U19 against Caboolture in the minor semi final at 1pm. The Open Women will be playing Noosa in the minor semi final at 2.30pm. The Reserve Grade team will be taking on Beerwah in the major semi final at 4pm and the A Grade side will be playing Kawana in the minor semi final at 5.30pm.

Last Saturday Coolum A-grade were defeated 14-6 by Maroochydore in the qualifying semi final. The team struggled to make inroads during the first half, and they found themselves defending their line on numerous occasions throughout the first half.

Two converted tries by Maroochydore saw them take a 12-0 lead to the break.

Half way through the second half the momentum swung Coolum's way, and they scored their first points with 14 minutes to go.

The A -grade Colts threw everything at the Maroochydore defense during the last ten minutes but were unable to breach the Maroochydore try line thus ensuring a Maroochydore win.

Fortunately, the A-grade gets a second chance this weekend when they play Kawana at Coolum.

'Mate vs Mate' at home as Junior Colts finish season 2025

THE WEEKEND of August 15 and 16 saw the last games for the U12s and U13s Div 2 played at home, and the Junior Colts marked the end of season with a game of footy against the adults (pictured).

The match was supposed to be Coolum vs Coolum, however instead of playing each other, and for something a little more fun, the U12s had a game against the adults.

Colts President Simon Kidman said that the season has been great for the junior age groups with finals taking place for the older age groups across the coming weekends.

"It's been a pretty good season with 27 teams across all age groups and we are pretty happy at the moment with the U15 Boys and U17 Girls both winning their semi-finals and into the grand final."

The U13 Girls are also looking to make it to the grand final with their semi to be played this coming weekend. Photos: Katie Buckley Graphic Design

MEMBER FOR NINDERRY

HERE is a look at some of the recent big wins we have achieved whilst in government.

SCHOOLS

Our teachers do an incredible job, and they know their students learn if they feel safe, supported and experience limited disruptions. Our Behaviour Boost funding program helps schools respond to behaviour challenges effectively. Based on its success, we have made it permanent so that each year $45 million will be shared across state schools to roll out the resources. Schools can also apply for an extra grant of up to $2000 to support professional development of staff.

Get your $200 Play On! Sport Vouchers NOW for children aged between five and 17, and your $150 SwimStart voucher for 0-4-year-olds. We want every kid in Queensland to have the opportunity to participate safely in the activities they love.

HEATH

More than 12,300 Queenslanders have come off the elective surgery wait list since the introduction of our Surgery Connect Surge program. In other good news in the health and welfare sector, up to three Disability Parking Permits are now free for eligible individuals.

POLICE

Hot on our pursuit to improve community safety, I am pleased to report that the Crisafulli Government has added an extra 350 police officers to the frontline in the last nine months, more than double than that recruited in the past four years. This figure doesn't include the 23 new highly trained police dogs we welcomed to the team.

BUSINESS

In the latest round of the Crisafulli Government's Business Basics Grants, 15 local businesses each received $7,500 to boost their growth. Sectors such as health and wellbeing, literary and coaching, catering, travel, industrial, eco fashion and even pet accessories were in the mix.

We have launched an online Cyber Security Hub to help small and family businesses protect themselves from threats. This package of resources includes free cyber wardens training, education on safe use of digital ID schemes and weekly cyber security webinars.

PUMP TRACK
INITIAL WORKS

YOU'LL see some construction start at the Pump Track site in Lions & Norrie Job Park. These preliminary works involve the relocation of UnityWater infrastructure. There will be some impact to road-side parking and the site will be closed off to the public during construction.

PROPOSED
PLANNING SCHEME

The changes in the Proposed Planning Scheme for the Coolum-Peregian Local Plan Area, reflects the recent development that has already occurred already in the Peregian communities. There are changes to the Coolum Industrial Estate and a new Low-Medium Density Residential Zone around Coolum township changing heights from 8.5m to three storeys and 12m. It is important for you to have your say on this planning scheme as other communities are lobbying hard to have no change which could inadvertently have a negative impact on communities such as Peregian and Coolum.

A CALL TO CREATIVE
YOUNG NATURE
LOVERS

The Wild HeART Student Art

Prize 2025 is now open, inviting school-aged children to explore nature and share their discoveries through art. From native plants to fungi, students are encouraged to observe and create realistic artworks that tell the story of nature. Finalists could win a prize and will be featured in a summer exhibition at the Maroochy Regional Bushland Botanic Garden.

Entries close October 5. Search "wildheart" at botanic-garden.sunshinecoast.qld.gov.au for details.

REPORT LOCAL ISSUES

With all the rain we've had, I'm sure we're all noticing the potholes that have popped up and vegetation that may have fallen over. Disappointingly, I'm also reporting illegal dumping. If you spot any issues, let's get it fixed! Report potholes, road hazards, vegetation issues or illegal dumping via the Sunshine Coast App or call 5475 7272 - 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

LEGAL MATTERS AFFECTING THE COMMUNITY.

DUPLEXES AND DISCLOSURE

UNDER the seller disclosure scheme which applies to property sales in Queensland since 1 August 2025, the seller of a property which is part of a community title scheme must provide a 'body corporate certificate' along with the seller disclosure document, or failing that, an explanation as to why the body corporate can't provide one.

The certificate itself is 11 pages long and not a trifling task to complete, but an explanation along the lines that our body corporate is hopelessly disorganised or even 'moribund' will likely cruel the sale.

We expect this development to lead to an overall improvement in body corporate compliance, but the changes will bite particularly hard for the owners of duplexes which are still registered under the 'Small Schemes' module rather than the newer module for 'Two-Lot Schemes' which came out in 2012.

Changes to the Body Corporate and Community Management Regulation back then simplified the management of community titles schemes with two lots — most commonly duplexes — by removing the need for officeholders and formal committees, meetings and complex administrative processes. Instead, decisions are made through written agreements between the two lot owners. No sinking fund or administration fund and no budgets or financial statements are required.

Of course, the changes were made because so many duplex owners were unable to keep up with the paperwork, but there is no automatic mechanism to change from a 'Small Scheme' to a 'Two Lot' scheme. A formal and quite legalistic process must be followed before the Registrar of Land Titles will approve a request to record a new Community Management Statement. For the many older duplexes still registered as 'Small Schemes', none of the relaxations apply.

The motivation to make the change to a 'Two Lot' Scheme used to be convenience. Since the advent of a disclosure scheme which compels an owner to either obtain a detailed certificate or confess to their sins, it could be the key to securing a future sale.

A look back in time

FRANCES WINDOLF
A LONG TIME COOLUM RESIDENT WITH A PASSION FOR LOCAL HISTORY

A FAMILY REMINISCENCE

I CAME to live in Coolum at the beginning of 1985 – when Coolum High School opened its doors. I was lucky enough to meet and marry a “local”, John Windolf, who was born in Nambour, lived on Buderim with his grandparents, mother and sister during World War 2 and moved to live above Coolum Creek in 1945. John’s father – Alec Windolf - who I called “Pa” – lived with us for several years before he died and had many wonderful stories about early Coolum. This was one of his often-remembered tales.

Alec Windolf had been a military policeman during the war and successfully rode a motorcycle all across south-east Queensland and northern New South Wales during that time but never drove a car. When he had leave, he would walk from the railway line to Buderim, to join his wife, his daughter Caryll, and later baby John, who all lived in a house beside today’s Buderim Tavern.

Because fuel was so scarce at that time, many people walked great distances, and John’s mother would join other ladies to walk from Buderim to Mooloolaba with their children, timing their return to Buderim to coincide with the now-empty “grocer’s truck” which might carry them back up the steep hill!

After World War 2 ended, Alec’s first purchase was a house and land situated above Coolum Creek wharf, and after buying that land above Coolum Creek, his second purchase was a pair of horses, bought from “the Finns” – either the Suorsaari family, or the Savimaki family – who successfully farmed the land that is now most of the runway of the Sunshine Coast Airport.

After having walked the lengthy distance from his home above Coolum Creek to today’s Marcoola area, Alec was very pleased to have a successful conversation with the owner of the horses and felt very grateful that he could ride home up the hill, rather than walking all the way.

However, there was a small detail that Alec hadn’t considered ... the horses successfully climbed the hill, with little effort, and Alec called “Whoa!!!” at the top, to stop them, but the horses kept going! He tried again – “Whoa!!” and again, “Whoa!” but the horses kept going ... until they eventually stopped, exhausted.

The next day, Alec retraced his journey - downhill, back to the Finnish farm, with the two horses, and this time he had more success. After a much-needed lesson in the Finnish language, Alec was able to instruct his horses and was able to use them for all sorts of endeavours on their farm.

I’ve now lived in Coolum for forty years – and I’ve never forgotten those horses!

Observations

TONY GIBSON
A MARCOOLA RESIDENT WHO IS ACTIVE IN THE COMMUNITY AND THE ENVIRONMENT.

COURAGE AND HOPE

I ACCEPT the way it is and at the same time believe there is hope in sustaining and enjoying our natural world into the future. Whether it is a journey into our rainforests and tall eucalypts on the Sunshine Coast or into the wet tropics of far north Queensland, there are so many amazing places to enjoy. We can see the rich inheritance of fauna with habitat for a koala or a duck-billed platypus.

We can learn much from both literature and by being outdoors and this education can help with understanding our future and how we deal with the climate crisis.

I have been reading the story of Peter Hitchcock in the Defender of Forests who has been instrumental in establishing national parks in New South Wales, Queensland and Indonesia. Starting off as forester he gained a love for the tall eucalypts and rainforests helping governments to protect forests by creating national parks across the world. In this extract we can see the love, courage and hope in Peter’s heart.

“Far too precious to surrender... If we treasure our tall forests, let our banner be unfurled – to honour and protect them and to share them with the world.”

While some writers like Jonica Newby talk about the challenges of climate change to sustainability in Beyond Climate Grief, we do need to move through grief to acceptance. Creativity, joy and pride can follow the overcoming of disasters like bushfires and cyclones resulting from climate change. By becoming a renewable energy superpower supported by courageous business leaders like Mike Cannon-Brookes we can export non-fossil fuel energy to Asia and beyond.

In the Green New Deal – Why The Fossil Fuel Civilisation Will Collapse By 2028, and The Bold Economic Plan To Save Life On Earth, Jeremy Rifkin has inspired climate legislation in the European Union and China and a zero-carbon economy.

Rifkin provocatively suggests that workers via their superannuation funds want investment in a sustainable future with human-centred technology and jobs. In Australia there are $3 trillion dollars in superannuation and as long as there is an adequate return on investment for retirement a more sustainable and ethical allocation would be feasible.

Clearly, with some continuing innovation, courage and hope we can address climate change and work for nature and community to be connected and sustained.

TROY ASCOTT
COOLUM STATE HIGH SCHOOL

HAVE you heard it – Coolum State High School has gone viral? To be more specific, the Coolum High rock band consisting of Jake, Josh, CJ and musical mentor Darren Percival, have had over 55 000 views on Facebook. And, that all stems from the band’s performance at senior assembly last Tuesday morning, where the group played a beyond their years rendition of Dire Straits ‘Sultans Of Swing’.

If this isn’t testament to the talent of Coolum High’s students and the quality of our music programs, then I don’t know what is! To think that this comes on the back of the Wind Symphony’s magnificent podium-placing performance at the Sunshine Coast Eisteddfod is just remarkable.

I believe that all kids are talented. It’s really the opportunity to develop that talent that makes the difference. I am so proud that at Coolum High we have the opportunity to develop these talents with gifted teachers and mentors who consistently draw out excellence in musical performance from these students.

Jake, Josh and CJ have shown what happens with hard work and with dreams – I know that these boys have dreamt a little, felt the fear and did it anyway, overcome the nerves, tinkered and persevered, worked persistently and tirelessly, and ultimately performed with belief in themselves. I know they grew taller when Darren told them he believed in them – I don’t think we understand what it means to a child when an adult shows genuine belief in them and true interest in what they care about.

The guitars sprang into life, the drumming by year 7 student Jake led the band superbly, the vocals drew inspiration from Mark Knopfler himself and somehow these elements merged into a moment that was unforgettable. It was a mighty performance and a privilege to see for everyone who was there. If you haven’t seen it, go to the school’s Facebook page and check it out. I know that more than 55 000 people already have!

Winter Warmer

It sure has been fresh of late, often though the water temperature is warmer than the air and that results in steam coming off the water! Photographer Ash Page captured this example recently. "A few from this morning where the creek meets the ocean on a cold morning. I'm assuming the ocean might have been warmer than the creek? Loving the sunshine though!"

If you happen to take a stunning pic or have a pic of something you think the community should know about – taken on either your smart phone or on your digital camera, then we would love to see it. Please send in your 'pic of the week' to, editor@coolumadvertiser.com.au or you can text the image to 0422 059 769 and don't forget to include your name, where the pic was taken and what it is of.

Proposed Sunshine Coast Planning Scheme

Closing soon

Submissions close 19 September 2025

Sunshine Coast Council has carefully drafted a proposed planning scheme. It is important to everyone on the Sunshine Coast. It will help shape our neighbourhoods and our region.

The proposed planning scheme sets out zones, building heights, design standards and much more. It ensures we have enough land set aside for homes, green spaces, community facilities and business, while planning for a climate-resilient future.

Your voice matters in shaping the future of our region. Time is running out to have your say.

Who can get our fresh and flavour filled meals?

In short ... anyone can get our fabulous meals!

Meals on Wheels is for anyone who has difficulty with cooking and preparing meals for themselves.

The service is provided to older people, people with a disability, people recovering from surgery or illness and of course carers.

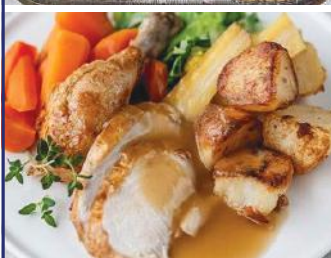

The service is based on need and there are no waiting lists!

We offer a range of meals so there's plenty of variety, and we can accommodate special dietary requirements.

If you are registered with one of the following funding programs, you may be eligible for a price subsidy:

- Commonwealth Home Support Programme
- Home Care Package
- NDIS

Around the Greens

The Club was lucky to have a special visitor on the greens on Friday August 15 with Peter Belliss visiting Coolum. Peter is a former New Zealand player, who won the World Bowls Championships Singles in 1984 in Aberdeen. He played in four Commonwealth Games and was Coach at the 2006 Games. His list of achievements is impressive and well worth a 'google'.

Peter Belliss chats with Coolum bowlers.

Sensational bowls action being played on Friday August 15.

Despite the very wet conditions earlier in the week, the sun came out and there was some great bowls on Friday August 22. Big thanks to the grounds staff for getting the greens into such great shape after the rain. Photos: Contributed
